LEA COUNTY COMMISSION FOR THE ARTS

Commission Hires a Director

Lea County Commission for the Arts has taken a decisive step towards making the Center for the Arts corner on Broadway a thriving art center by hiring Carol Hammond as its director. She comes to the position with many dynamic skills including that of a visual artist. Her determination and business skills have shaped up the building and helped the programming to blossom.

One of her major decisions was to bring on board another talented individual and artist, Ann Evans. Her talents as an artist strengthen the Youth Wednesday After School Classes for children, Friday's Open Studio as well as welcoming guests and planning other activities.
